Natural Resources

WENATCHEE VALLEY
COLLEGE

Ready Reserve Wildland Satellite Firefighter Academy

- Rural Fire Districts in Eastern Washington may be eligible to have Wildland Firefighter Type 2 and Type 1 courses delivered by qualified cadre in your community at no cost.
- The Department of Natural Resources, in partnership with Wenatchee Valley College, and with support from the U. S. Department of Interior, will sponsor wildland fire training for Rural Fire Protection Districts in spring 2008.
- As an incentive for your district to attract new recruits, DNR will provide you a set of Nomex shirt, Nomex pants, and helmet for the first two hundred recruits joining eligible districts after December 2007 and passing the final Firefighter 2 exam.
- Eligible districts must meet the following criteria:
Volunteer members serving Districts and Departments serving a population of less than 10,000 persons, and borders or includes a Department of Interior, (BLM, NPS, BIA, FWS), Agency within its protection Area OR currently has a Wildland Fire response agreement with a DOI Agency.
- Fire Departments that are not eligible may still register students but must pay a modest tuition.
- Class location is dependant on a minimum registration of 15 students per location.
